Coming Out/Book Signing of Ed Carriere and Dale Croes' Re-Awakening Ancient Salish Sea Basketry book

And their Recent trip to work with Maori Weavers in New Zealand and presentation at a Wetland Archaeology Conference in France

By Ed Carriere, Suquamish Elder and Dale Croes, Wet Site Archaeologist, W.S.U. and Director of PNWAS

It has finally happened, the three year project that we have presented annually at PNWAS is now being published into a book that we want to share with you at this PNWAS book coming out/signing party.

We also want to share too our recent trips to present our work to New Zealand Maori at their National Weavers Gathering and to a Wetland Archaeology Conference in France. Use the enclosed PNWAS discount form to order the book as a current member of PNWAS. If you are not current, send in the enclosed membership form as you order your book through the Journal of Northwest Anthropology.

Sure look forward to sharing the book with you covering this experimental archaeological work we call Generationally-Linked Archaeology. We will have a cake to cut and celebrate together. Thank you for your support and involvement with Ed's and my efforts to promote culture and archaeology through the past years.

PNWAS Summer Fieldtrip—August 24th-26th, 2018, for the Hoko River Mouth Retreat (HRMR) campout and MAKAH DAYS! Bring family and friends

PRELIMINARY AGENDA:

1. Arrive at the Hoko River Mouth Retreat on Friday afternoon and set up your tent camp for our weekend campout. If you reserve a “small cabins” that sleeps up to 6 indoors, we will charge an extra $50 total at the camp for the 2 nights. They have electricity and heaters.
2. After Saturday morning breakfast we will pack lunches and go to Neah Bay to enjoy a Makah Days parade, youth dances, canoe races, their wonderful salmon bake, and great vendors for shopping! Also tours of the Makah Museum and hike to Cape Flattery.
3. Sunday you have the option of hiking around the area and pack equipment and bag lunch to leave or hike down to the Ozette Site and stay another night.
4. If you stay until Monday, we will have a tour around Hoko and pack equipment and bag lunch for trip home.

What to Bring with You to the Hoko River Mouth Retreat—You mainly need to bring a sleeping bag, sleeping pad and tent to camp on the Hoko River beach. Other things you should bring are: camp chairs, rubber boots (for tidal collecting), rain gear (just in case), flashlight, sun glasses, pocket knife, bathing suit (river is warm!?), changes of clothing and personal snacks.

And we have a canopy with a kitchen (hot/cold water stainless sinks, refrigerator, propane stoves, pots and pans, and paper plates/plastic ware/ firepit with two grills and lots of firewood/enclosed hot/cold shower facility/two deluxe outhouses (with lights and cassette-tape/radio!) as the main toilet; you can see some of the facilities on web: <http://hrmr.weebly.com/>. You will park your van/car/camper-on-pickup at Hoko on the lawn by the beach--the road is gravel and steep, but ok, however it will not support large vehicles or RVs, so DO NOT bring trailers or RVs! You cannot get them back up the gravel road.

DATE: Friday, August 24th-26th, 2018
