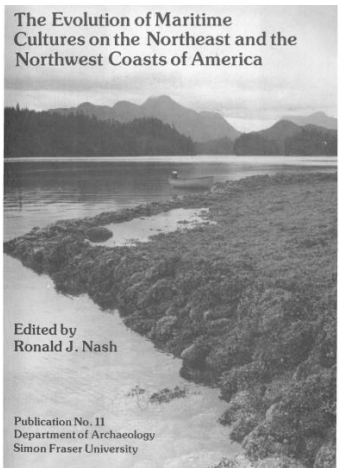
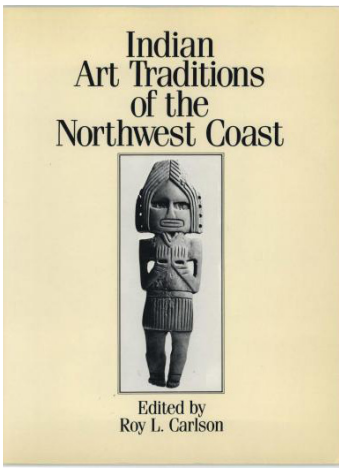
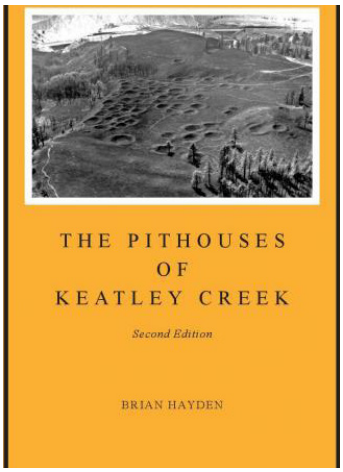
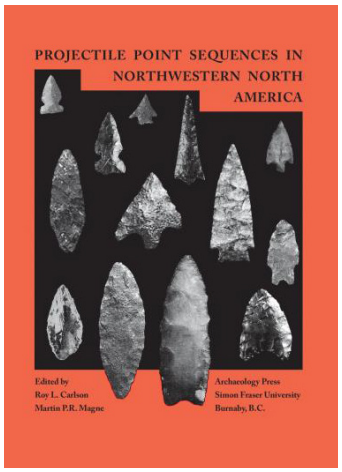
SFU ARCHAEOLOGY PRESS









Simon Fraser University Archaeology Press, an indispensable part of Canadian archaeology and Northwest Coast studies for 45 years, has recently digitized their 36 monographs and edited volumes and made them available for FREE online, for both viewing and downloading.

Each publication is available in its entirety, and is also broken up into several documents to allow the reader to download a specific chapter or section that they find particularly interesting.

Some Archaeology Press books are also still available for purchase as hard copies, most of them first editions. All available hard copy titles are $30, including shipping (if shipping exceeds $30, books are $5 each, plus the cost of shipping).

All publications can be found by searching "SFU Archaeology Press" or by going to
